

Dear Jackie and Andrew,

Rick and I would like to thank you for giving us a wedding far more beautiful than anything we could have imagined. We are still reeling with visions of the whole weekend. We can still see the dining room aglow with the red and gold of flowers, candles, and the exquisite décor you so carefully selected. We can still hear the sounds of so many happy guests, laughing and smiling and in absolute wonder of the beauty that surrounded them. As evening fell behind the trees beyond the back lawn, the old world charm of the Manor combined with the glow of hundreds of candles created an ambiance that was like something out of a dream.

Lord Thompson Manor is not just a function facility; it's an experience. From the unsurpassed level of service to the historic beauty and character of the manor itself, there is no place we would recommend more highly than Lord Thompson for any event, large or small.

We would like to thank you and your staff for all the personal attention and effort you put into making our wedding such a magical experience. We were touched that our children were made to feel as important a part of the event as anyone else. You made it something they will always remember with fondness and wonder. Please relay our special thanks to Ted. We so appreciated his guiding presence and words of encouragement throughout our stay at the Manor. He attended to every detail with an approach of such graciousness and warmth that he made everyone feel equally special. I will never forget how he calmed my wedding day jitters before the ceremony as I waited in the master suite, by serenading me with excerpts from his recent concert performance. And none of our guests will forget his rendition of "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" as we all gathered in the drawing room for breakfast the next day.

You made our wedding day a beautiful memory, not only for us, but for our guests as well. Each guest we've spoken with since the wedding has said without hesitation that it was the nicest, most beautiful wedding they've ever attended. One guest said it perfectly on Sunday morning when, after we thanked her for coming, she replied "Thank you. You've given us a gift." Everyone wants to find a reason to come back.

Even our pastor, who has performed many weddings, told us that she has never had the pleasure of being part of such a special and beautiful wedding, and she thanked us for including her and her husband in the festivities.

Thank you again for all you did for us, and for all of our guests. Lord Thompson Manor and the special people who make everything run so smoothly are truly treasures.

Peggy and Rick
